POSH Guidelines for Internal Complaints Committee Members

Sexual harassment is a serious issue in the workplace. As the number of women in leadership positions rises, so does the number of women who are assaulted. In 2013, the Sexual Harassment of Women at Workplace (Prevention, Prohibition, and Redressal) (POSH) Act was passed. The Act establishes a new mechanism for companies to handle sexual harassment complaints: the internal complaints committee members.

Statutory Requirements under POSH Act

The POSH Act is binding on all and mandates that all Public and Private Sector Organizations in India comply with certain statutory requirements. The onus to ensure POSH at work for women lies on the employers and managements and for this, they are directed to:

- Form an Internal Complaints Committee.
- Provide Periodic POSH Training on Sexual Harassment law.
- Develop an effective Complaint lodging and Redressal Policy.

THE DIRECTORATE OF INTERNATIONAL AFFAIRS

The Directorate of International Affairs at AdtU takes pleasure in its role as a catalyst for worldwide collaboration and the expansion of international possibilities for both students and faculty members. Although the University was established in 2010, our journey to substantial worldwide involvement officially began in 2020, signifying a crucial turning point in our efforts to reach out to the world.

AdtU has developed strong relationships with more than 50 prestigious foreign universities, facilitating cross-disciplinary collaborations. These alliances have paved the way for numerous joint projects, including faculty and student exchange programs, cultural exchanges, team research projects, seminars, and other academic activities. AdtU fosters a vibrant international environment, with an aim to prepare our community for advancement and growth in a world that is rapidly promoting interconnectivity.

The Directorate of International Affairs actively promotes internationalization at AdtU by inspiring academics and staff to get involved in international endeavors and gain the advantages of a thorough international education.
